Perpetual Calendar—Nifty Idea

Corporate officers and others who supervise a great deal of record-keeping frequently have to know what day in the week a certain date was a year ago. Therefore they may hang onto several old calendars, as I used to do. The following tells why I quit.

One day while browsing through the World Almanac, which we buy in the paper-back edition every year, I noted a section on the Perpetual Calendar. It looked complicated and I skipped it for the moment, resolving, however, to go back and study it another day.

The moment finally arrived when I needed to know the weekday of a date several years back. So I checked with the Perpetual Calendar, and found the answer fast and easy.

This was a discovery for me—only then did I learn that almost every professional secretary has known about the Perpetual Calendar for years. I was just catching up with them.

The Perpetual Calendar gives you any yearly calendar from 1800 to 2059. Someone discovered years ago there are only 14 combinations of calendar arrangements. Group these 14 combinations by the years they apply to, and you can find the date of any week-day forever. Simple enough—but I found out only the other day.

News Media Sues to Halt Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Magazines and newspapers have filed suit to halt temporary increases in postal rates which could boost their mailing costs 20 per cent this spring.

Spokesmen for the Magazine Publishers Association (MPA) and American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) said they recognize the need for higher postal rates and postal reform.

"However, we have no other way to get a hearing on either the amount of the increases or the method of assessing them," said ANPA President Stanford Smith.

The suit filed in U.S. District Court here Thursday seeks a preliminary injunction barring a proposal by the board of governors of the U.S. Postal Service to increase rates for second-class mail by an average of 20 per cent in mid-May, first-class mail from 6 to 8 cents and air mail from 10 to 11 cents.

The Postal Service has proposed a 142-per-cent jump in second-class rates over a five-year period and a 33-per-cent hike in third-class rates, one-fifth to take effect this spring.

The postal reorganization legislation passed by Congress last year provides rate increases be fixed by a five-member independent rate commission, at the suggestion of the board of governors.

Temperatures Cooler But Still Mild

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The National Weather Service says Arkansas may receive some much-needed rain this weekend as a low pressure system pushes into the state from the west.

There is a chance of showers in Western Arkansas tonight with showers and thundershowers becoming more numerous and spreading over the state tonight and Saturday.

Temperatures tonight and Saturday will be a little cooler, but should remain on the mild side. Low tonight will be in the 50s. The high Saturday will be in the 60s to low 70s.

The highs Thursday ranged from 72 at El Dorado to 78 at Texarkana and Fort Smith. Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 53; Harrison, 55; Jonesboro, 49; Pine Bluff, 53; Texarkana, 58; El Dorado, 51; Memphis, 44; Little Rock, 49 and Fort Smith, 51.

Economy Can't Stand a Tax Cut

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has ruled out calling for immediate tax cuts following a strong rebound in the nation's economy during the first three months of the year.

Although the recovery was not as great as the Nixon administration had hoped, White House economic adviser George P. Shultz said it shuts the door to any tax-relief proposals in the immediate future.

"As of now, we're on a good course and we hope to stay on that course," Shultz told newsmen Thursday. "There is no reason to make any shift in policy."

Shultz said the first-quarter advance of $28.5 billion in gross national product, output of the nation's goods and services, was a "little less than expected, but larger than what the pessimists thought."

"We do have expansion under way—a good solid expansion," he said.

Nixon administration officials have been considering the possibility of further tax relief to boost the sluggish economy. And Shultz said he is not ruling out that possibility for the entire year.

The White House had hoped for a first-quarter GNP growth of $30 billion to $35 billion as an indicator of vigorous expansion and to achieve its twin goals of cutting inflation and unemployment.

The GNP figures showed, however, that inflation continued its high level, galloping along at 5.2 per cent during the quarter but down from the upward-revised 5.9 per cent during the last three months of 1970.

Nixon has pledged to cut the inflation rate to 3 per cent and unemployment from the present 6 per cent to 4.5 per cent by mid-1972.

To do that, the administration figures, GNP will have to average $1.065 trillion for all of 1971. If statistics released Thursday are indicative, output will fall short of that goal.

The gain brought GNP to $1.018 trillion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate, a 12-per-cent increase measured by current prices and the biggest single-quarter percentage rise in more than 12 years.

The increase was possible primarily because auto production snapped back strongly from last fall's General Motors strike and accounted for two-thirds of the GNP advance. Outside of the automobile sector, the economy still suffered from considerable slack during the period.

U. S., Israel Relations in a Strain

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Relations between Israel and the United States are going through a period of strain more severe than any since the Suez crisis of 1956.

Over the last several weeks, in a remarkable display of international candor, they have yelled at each other across oceans and conference tables in such sharp disagreement they sometimes seemed to threaten their 22-year-old friendship.

But the two countries could scarcely weaken their basic ties even if they wanted to, and neither does. The forces that lock them together are infinitely stronger, the experts agree, than the differences which separate them, even though—in the Israeli view—those differences are fundamental to Israel's security.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers less than a month ago deplored Israel's determination to hold on to some key spots of Arab territory captured in the 1967 war as a means of shoring up its own security. He offered the U.S. peacekeeping role as a part of a U.N. plan for guaranteeing a settlement.

Israeli Premier Golda Meir responded immediately by denouncing the Rogers proposal, first reports quoting her as saying, "We cannot trust Rogers' offer, even if it is proposed in good faith."

The job was softened with a later explanation that her comment had been escalated by

Yanks See Progress in Some Areas in China, Many Still Backward

By JOHN RODERICK

SHANGHAI (AP) — The touring U.S. table tennis team got a glimpse today of Shanghai's industry and some of the more expert members gave it qualified high marks.

Players and officials spent an hour going through the vast permanent industrial exhibit housed in a wedding cake-style building put up in 10 months in 1955. They saw a wide range of products, from butterfly sewing machines to automobiles and giant trucks.

Afterward Graham Steenhoven, president of the U.S. Table Tennis Association, said: "It was fantastic, terrific, an example of the material progress they have made."

An executive of the Chrysler Corp., Steenhoven continued: "I was particularly interested in the big truck because that is my field. The arc welding in that was a beautiful bead."

He was referring to a goliath of a dump truck called the Shanghai, which weighs 22 tons, is diesel powered, has 400 horsepower and a 32-ton capacity. Used in mining or big construction projects, it can go 30 miles an hour.

Youth Charged in Coed's Death

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor Mahlon Gibson filed a charge of first-degree murder today against a 17-year-old Fayetteville youth in connection with the brutal stabbing death Monday night of Pauline F. Stormont, 27, a sophomore student at the University of Arkansas.

Charged was Wallace Peter Kunkel, who had been held in jail here since being arrested shortly after the stabbing.

"My over-all impression is that they are backward in some areas and advanced in others," he said. "The chemical industry is backward while textiles are very advanced. Metals are so so, I would say, while machinery looked rather good."

"There weren't any ships before liberation and now they have a number. Farm equipment is backward but what could you expect after seeing the countryside."

This was apparently a reference to the unevenness of the terrain.

Food Stamps Plan to Open Door to Poor and Close It to Hippies

By DON KENDALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration hopes to put into effect by fall a sweet and sour blend of food-stamp regulations opening the door more widely to low-income families and shutting it on indigents and hippies.

The proposed rules, a follow-up to a new food-stamp law passed by Congress late last year, were announced Thursday by the Agriculture Department.

Asst. Agriculture Secretary Richard E. Lyng told newsmen the most far-reaching feature is a national income-eligibility standard for operating the food-stamp program uniformly in all states.

Each state welfare agency at present can determine the limit a family may earn before it is cut off from food-stamp eligibility. A family of four in South Carolina, for example, is limited to a take-home pay of $180 a month before stamp qualification is ended.

The proposed rule will allow the same family, anywhere in the United States, to earn up to $360 a month and still be eligible for food stamps, the coupons giving poor people a bonus advantage at food stores.

The eligibility standard was described by Lyng as having tremendous impact on the vast food-stamp program.

Only three states, Alaska, New Jersey and New York, now have earnings limits equal to or larger than the $360 per month proposed in the new rules.

The remainder of the states have cutoffs less than the pending regulations would permit. Officials said the effect would be to allow more persons into the food-stamp program.

But Lyng said he did not have an estimate on how many additional persons the liberalization might bring into the food-stamp program or how much it might cost.

The current fiscal year, ending June 30, calls for $1.54 billion for food-stamp expenditures. Nixon budget experts say $2 billion is needed for next fiscal year.

About 10.2 million persons at last count were in the stamp program. These are in 45 states and 1,976 of the nation's 3,129 counties.

In addition to food stamps, the Agriculture Department operates a direct commodity-distribution program. All but nine counties in the country are served by one or both of the programs.

The new rules, carrying out Congressional orders, also crack down on nonworking family members and college students who cannot prove they are in need. Commune arrangements involving nonrelated persons are barred.

Federal regulations now allow food stamps for any household as long as it meets local welfare requirements. The new rules say that household members under 60 years of age must be blood relatives of linked by marriage.

"That is pretty significant," Lyng said. "This eliminates communes."

The proposed rules also spell out congressional insistence that all able-bodied adults in a food-stamp family register for jobs. Exceptions include mothers with dependent children under 18 years.

Lyng predicted states will be prepared to carry out the new rules by late September.

This Is Night for Kiwanis Variety Show

Tonight is the night the Kiwanis Variety Show unfolds on the stage at City Hall Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Much effort has been put into tonight's show to make it a clean and entertaining hour or two, and those attending will surely get their money's worth. It will be worth the price of admission to see Lem, Hiram, Zeke, Snuffy, and Shorty, well known Hope citizens, as they assume characters from way back in the woods. If the antics of these characters have no appeal to you, you can be assured that the specialty acts, featuring some of the very best talent in our area, will be worth the price of your ticket. However, if you don't go for shows of this kind, be reminded that every ticket sold adds that much to the funds that the Kiwanis Club will be using for their Youth Programs and for the Golden Age Club.

The dream of Kiwanians for a new Youth or Community Center has not yet come true, but in time it will be a reality when sufficient funds are in sight to assure completion of such a facility. The local Kiwanis Club is giving unqualified support to this program and backing their support with funds, most of which come from their Annual Variety Show.

Fund Sharing Plan Going Nowhere

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six special revenue-sharing plans through which President Nixon hopes to rechannel federal aid to the states are going nowhere fast in a hostile Congress.

Designed to repack a host of existing programs into $11 billion worth of block grants to the states, the plans hold little appeal for the Democratic congressional majority which helped shape the programs Nixon wants to replace.

As a result, his plans have been shoved far into the background in the committees that will consider them and prospects are dim that any will progress much beyond the hearing stage this year.

Nixon's domestic legislative program is built around $5 billion in general revenue sharing and $11 billion in the six special programs covering education, manpower, law enforcement, transportation, community development and rural development.

The $5-billion program, heavily lobbied by the administration among governors and mayors, is in deep trouble in the House Ways and Means Committee, opposed both by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and the ranking Republican, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

Nixon sent the last of the six special programs to Congress April 6 before the start of the Easter holiday, but it is already clear they are in trouble, too.

Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, says he may hold hearings on the education plan later this year, but that's as far as he appears willing to go.

"We're not about to dump all these fine programs we've spent so many years developing and just turn the money over to the states," he said when the plan came up from the White House.

The Education and Labor Committee shows no inclination to approve the manpower proposal. In fact, it is speeding action on a bill of its own which Nixon opposes.

The bill would provide federal grants to cities to create public-service jobs for the unemployed. Nixon vetoed a similar bill last year.

There is some prospect for hearings this summer in the House Banking and Currency Committee on the community-development plan, but the rural-development proposal has not even been assigned to a committee.

When Nixon outlined his revenue-sharing program to Congress last Feb. 4 he called it "an idea whose time has clearly come." But in Congress, the clock is running slow.

Siege Broken, Supply Lanes Are Attacked

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese and U.S. forces have launched a new operation against enemy supply bases and infiltration routes in the A Shau Valley near the Laotian frontier.

No significant contact was reported.

The U.S. Command said troops of the 101st Airborne Division and artillery were flown Wednesday into Fire Base Fury, at the southern tip of the 30-mile-long valley. Their mission was not disclosed, but it was assumed they carried out heavy artillery strikes to prepare the way for the South Vietnamese troops.

The Saigon government would not disclose the size of its force.

Allied troops have conducted periodic raids and reconnaissance missions into the valley about 25 miles southwest of Hue. It is a major supply base and staging area for North Vietnamese operations in the populous coastal lowlands to the east.

The valley has been bombed repeatedly and troops of the 101st Airborne operate several fire bases around the edge of the area, opening and closing them as required.

More than 100 miles to the south, the commander of South Vietnamese forces in the central highlands declared today that the siege of Fire Base 6 is over and the North Vietnamese are fleeing after suffering heavy casualties.

Although Maj. Gen. Ngo Dzu said "enemy pressure at Fire Base 6 has entirely lifted," field reports said mortars and rocket grenades were fired at U.S. and South Vietnamese helicopters landing new troops there. Two South Vietnamese positions around the base were shelled and one clash was reported.

Three South Vietnamese troops and one American adviser were reported killed and nine Saigon troops wounded. Two North Vietnamese also were reported killed.

Trouble at Blytheville Schools

BLYTHERVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Classes at Blytheville High School and West Junior High School were to resume this morning following a racial disturbance that closed the schools Thursday.

A spokesman at the school said about 50 black pupils began a chant in the halls and reportedly attempted to get other Negro pupils to leave class at the high school and junior high.

No major incident was reported and all was quiet late Thursday.

A spokesman said it was believed the disturbance was sparked by an incident on a school bus in which one pupil was told to get off the bus. All of the passengers then got off the bus and began walking to the high school, which has an enrollment of about 1,500.

Fire Damages University Dorm

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Fire early today in the formal lounge area of Reid Hall, a women's dormitory at the University of Arkansas, forced the evacuation of 350 coeds from the nine-story structure.

No one was injured. However, Mike Boaz, a senior from North Little Rock, was treated and released after suffering smoke inhalation. He was in the building after taking his date home.

Firemen had the fire extinguished in about 15 minutes. Damage was confined to the first-floor lounge. The fire was believed to have been started by a cigarette having been dropped into a couch.

Patton Pulls Off Another Big Blitz

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Patton" blitzed the 43rd Academy Awards like one of its hero general's World War II sweeps, winning seven Oscars including best picture. The best actor award went to George C. Scott who played the title role—an honor he had said he would refuse.

The movie academy says it will hold the Oscar for him in case he changes his mind. Other top winners Thursday night included Britain's Glenda Jackson, best actress, "Women in Love;" John Mills, supporting actor, "Ryan's Daughter;" Helen Hayes, supporting actress, "Airport;" and Franklin J. Schaffner, direction, "Patton."

An artillery-like barrage of applause and approving yells came from a Los Angeles Music Center audience of nearly 3,000 as Goldie Hawn ripped open the envelope and cried, "Oh my God—the winner is George C. Scott!"

Scott had won for his portrayal of Gen. George S. Patton despite statements he'd decline the Oscar because "it is degrading to have actors in competition with each other ... in a public display of contrived suspense."

He also had called the presentations "a meat parade."

Film-acting in New York, the actor said through a spokesman Thursday before the presentations: "Win, lose or draw I have no statement."

There had been speculation that Scott's blasts would hurt his chances for the Oscar. Accepting the honor for Scott, "Patton" producer Frank McCarthy said the academy "has distinguished itself, shown what a great organization it is, by honoring so generously a fine performance by a great actor."

It's the first time any winner ever refused an Oscar of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Academy President Daniel Taradash said before the ceremonies that since Scott had said he didn't want to be involved, the academy had done everything it could to see that he wasn't.

Colleges Told to Eliminate Sex Bias

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Male chauvinism on the nation's campuses is in trouble. Women demanding that sex discrimination must go have been handed a big club by the federal government.

Either takes affirmative action to eliminate sex bias, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is telling colleges, or the flow of federal contract dollars will stop.

Already such institutions as Harvard and the University of Michigan have negotiated agreements designed to end sex bias where women are paid lower salaries for equal work and passed over for promotion.

J. Stanley Pottinger, director of HEW's office for civil rights, said investigators have run into some resistance but in the end the "universities are very cooperative."

There are signs, however, that administrators are unhappy with the pressure. The University of Michigan school newspaper, reporting on the first agreement negotiated, quoted Fidele Fauri, a school vice president, as saying: "We just want to get those bastards at HEW off our backs."

William Cash, university human relations director and member of the negotiating team, also told the newspaper: "Once you let women know they've got you over a barrel they'll take everything they can get from you. Women just make life difficult."

But male egos had better harden. The federal government is getting more aggressive. Owen Kiely, in charge of the program to eliminate discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin where there is a federal contract, said the number of field investigators will more than triple by 1972.

Married Priest Discloses He Has Son

PACIFICA, Calif. (AP) — The parents of a Roman Catholic priest say they were "overjoyed" to learn for the first time that they have a daughter-in-law and a 5-year-old grandson.

Robert Duryea Sr., whose son's marriage was disclosed Wednesday after his excommunication from the Church, said the news that he had a grandson was "like a gift."

The son, the Rev. Robert F. Duryea Jr., 49, had been priest for the 4,000 parishioners of St. Peter's church here since 1966.

His wife, identified publicly for the first time Thursday, is 30-year-old Lusan, a nurse at O'Connor Hospital in nearby San Jose. Her maiden name was not disclosed.

The senior Duryea said he met his son's wife and his grandson Paul for the first time Easter Sunday at the last Mass celebrated by Father Duryea.

"My son's wife is wonderful in every way," he said in an interview. "I admire her guts for permitting Bob to go ahead with the priesthood after marrying her. Few women would have done that."

He said that at first he was concerned that some of his friends "would take it the wrong way, but not one single soul has said anything but how happy they are for us. They've been falling all over themselves to tell us."

Another son, John, is Catholic chaplain at Stanford University.

Father Robert Duryea said Thursday he is looking for a job to support his family "until I am invited back into the Church as a pastor."

Speaking before some 600 parishioners at a farewell meeting, he said, "I want to feel that my many years in the Church were useful. And like an elegant gentleman once said before me, 'I shall return,'" a reference to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's wartime vow to return to the Philippines.

Father Duryea was suspended and excommunicated automatically Monday by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken of San Francisco under a Church law prohibiting marriage by priests.

Father Duryea said he has not decided what type of job to seek but is considering teaching and social work.

The parish council issued a statement lauding Father Duryea but said it had decided not to fight his ouster.

bad translation and she was not disputing the good faith of the Rogers proposal. Officially her response was modified to read that Israel could not trust the offer "even though" it was proposed in good faith.

More recently Chairman J.W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee accused Israel of using "Communist-baiting humbuggery" in a campaign to "manipulate the United States for their own purposes."

Such arguments between countries, growing more shrill as they linger, can create extremely bitter feelings except in the presence of powerful cohesive forces.

In this case, the fundamental fact is that Israel is almost entirely dependent on the United States for all its military supplies; it obtained a $500-million aid program last year and expects to get another $300 million worth of credit for arms purchases this year.

The ties in reverse include the base of strong popular support, expressed in finances and politics, that Israel has enjoyed in the United States since the end of World War II. In addition President Nixon has sometimes cast Israel in a global strategy role linked to America's interests, calling it the Middle Eastern "hinge of NATO," and a counterforce to radical Communist movements pressing against the moderate Arab lands which export much of Western Europe's oil supplies.

6 TCU Grid Freshmen Quit Team

FORT WORTH (AP) — Six Texas Christian freshman football players, including the starting quarterback from last fall's frosh team, quit Thursday.

None of the players was running higher than third string in new coach Jim Pittman's spring football drills.

Pittman indicated the frosh quit because they felt they did not fit into the new Horned Frog football program.

The players were running back Mike Morrison of San Antonio, tackles Joey Keel of Lake Worth, Randy Pack of Stephenville, and Steve Chichester of Texarkana, guard Carlton Hall of Fort Worth and end Paul Gennari of New York City.

Pittman said the players did not quit as a group but turned in their uniforms individually.

Professionalism Big Pride of Col. Scott

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "Progress in professionalism is my greatest pride," said Col. Ralph D. Scott, State Police director. He was speaking of the agency from which he has resigned, effective May 1.

Veterans of the State Police and some former officers confirm that years ago occasionally personnel were hired, fired, transferred, promoted and demoted not because of performance but because of political or other considerations.

Scott, formerly an FBI agent, instituted a "firm policy" that performance, along with the needs of the department, would be the only determining factors in transfers, promotions and so on.

As he leaves the post of director, he says, "The men are worried" that the political influence of a former era may take root again, bestowing promotion on men not worthy of it and denying promotion to deserving officers.

Gov. Dale Bumpers' selection of a successor to Scott will be closely watched and probably sharply criticized for any inclination to revert to political promotions or transfers.

While job security based on merit is an important consideration to most of the men in the State Police, it is only one of many changes of policy that has contributed to professionalizing the department.

Under Scott, examination and testing procedures for applicants to the State Police have been revised and sharpened. The force now requires a minimum intelligence quotient of 103 and passage of a battery of tests reflecting the applicant's adaptability, observation powers, memory and even spelling.

The minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma plus 60 semester hours of college credit — roughly two years of college work. An applicant with a high school diploma can be hired without the college credit, provided he makes and keeps a pledge to get 60 hours of college work within the first five years of employment.

The department published in 1969 an operations and procedures manual as the official guide for the force and as an aid to officers interested in making self-improvement.

"It was badly needed in order to communicate policy and procedure matters to our men," Scott said. "It is difficult in retrospect to understand how a police organization of this size could have functioned competently without an official guide and a written record of techniques which have been experienced and found workable."

A training section was formed in the department in 1969 and, after instructors were trained, a continuing in-service training program was initiated. Last year, each member of the department was exposed to at least 50 hours of in-service training.

A police library was established in the department in 1969 and stocked with material obtained by private donations, federal grants and publications and items already owned by the department.

Scott believes the library is the best in the state on matters related to traffic, criminal investigation, narcotics and other police-related topics.

"It is used by a great many of our men, particularly those who are interested in administrative advancement," the director said.

The in-service training covers firearms and other police tactics and investigative techniques and even includes some instruction in karate.

The department devised tests for competitive promotions and transfers for all ranks up to the rank of captain. Some officers received the new policy with suspicion, but now, Scott said, the system is so well established that "many of our younger troopers compete actively in all promotional examinations."

Dr. Harrison Here Sunday

Retired Ministers Sunday will be observed in the Little Rock Conference Sunday, April 18.

Filling the pulpit at the morning service in First United Methodist Church in Hope Sunday will be Dr. Fred R. Harrison, pastor of the local church from 1934-1938 and now Chaplain of the Arkansas Senate.

Picks White House Garden for Wedding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon has chosen the White House rose garden for her June 12 wedding and is considering live television coverage.

About 400 guests, mainly family friends and relatives, will be invited to the marriage ceremony of the President's elder daughter and Harvard law student Edward Finch Cox.

In event of rain, the ceremony will be moved to the East Room inside the executive mansion where seven other president's daughters have been married.

Details of the ceremony were announced Thursday by Connie Stuart, Mrs. Nixon's press secretary.

The matron of honor and best man have yet to be named, but it's thought they likely will be Julie Nixon Eisenhower and the prospective groom's brother, Howard Ellis Cox Jr.

Tricia has chosen Bill Harrington's 10-piece orchestra to provide dancing music in the East Room. Mrs. Stuart said the selection will range from "nostalgic to modern and will include favorite tunes of Tricia and Ed."

Harrington also played for President Nixon's 1969 inaugural ball and at the wedding receptions for Julie and David Eisenhower and David's sister, Barbara Ann Eisenhower, and her husband, Fernando Echeverria-Urbe.

Mrs. Stuart said wedding guests will be received in the Blue Room and take refreshments in the state dining room.

The bridal party will descend the curving south portico staircase and walk along a grassy center aisle to an altar set up on the west end of the 18th Century garden which should be alive with blooming flowers.

Speaker at Meetings

CARL MAPLES

The Hope Church of Christ plans a series of gospel meetings that begin April 18, according to M. H. Peebles, local minister. Carl Maples of Kingston, Jamaica, will be doing the preaching. Mr. Peebles gives this account of Maples. "He has worked in evangelistic efforts for years. His work has taken him from Canada to Jamaica.

Mr. Maples has a rich background of experience as a preacher and public speaker. We are fortunate to have him to work in our midst here at Hope. Some sermon subjects for the meeting will be "The Establishment," "Are We Blind Also?," "Meet Sopater of Berea" and other lessons that are badly needed today."

The public is invited to hear this man in the evenings at 7:30 p.m. April 18 through April 25. Sunday services will be at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Break Full of Benefits Has Ended

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — College students who chose a work week in southwest Missouri instead of the fun of ocean beaches finish today an Easter break full of community benefits.

The 106 have cut trees and brush, dug a latrine, painted houses, raked yards, collected empty bottles, visited patients in a state mental hospital and helped youngsters at a school for the handicapped.

Kevin Daniels, 18, a freshman at Siena College in Loudonville, N.Y., described how they helped a man of 64 build a bathroom extension on his home.

"We had no experience in carpentry or plumbing but the man did. He simply couldn't do the heavy work. He told us what to do and we did it."

Daniels and Mark Spudero, 18, of Long Island City, N.Y., another Siena student, spent three days ripping out a wall, digging the foundation and putting in the plumbing.

Another day they and half a dozen others painted the one-story home of a widow in her 70s.

This is the fourth year St. Francis Academy in this city of about 10,000 has been host to college students. Each Easter, the Roman Catholic secondary high school with an enrollment of about 60 invites volunteers from Eastern colleges to help those unable to help themselves.

Priscilla Duff, a sophomore from Newton College of the Sacred Heart in Newton, Mass., and Melissa McDiarmid of Baltimore, Md., the only high school senior in the group, were among about 10 young people who went to an elementary school as teacher aides. Committee chairmen are reminded to bring their reports up-to-date and give them to the Historian on Tuesday.

Wednesday, April 21

The Hope Lilac Garden Club will meet Wednesday, April 21 at 2 p.m. in the Douglas Building with Mrs. Otis Taylor and Mrs. A.M. Hewitt as hostesses. Mrs. N.P. Nesbitt will have the program. Please note the change in date.

DAR Holds Meet

Sixteen members of the John Cain Chapter, DAR, welcomed Mrs. Bill Etter of Washington as a new member, when the monthly luncheon meeting was held at the Town and Country on Wednesday, April 14 with Mrs. Robert LaGrone and Mrs. John Keck, hostesses.

In the absence of the chaplain, Mrs. Charles Locke conducted the ritual. The Regent, Mrs. Keck, had charge of the business meeting, and she, Mrs. Robert Vandivere and Mrs. Paul Klipsch reported on the State Conference they had attended. Mrs. J. W. Branch, program chairman, presented Miss Juanita Nicholson and the Madrigal Singers from Hope High, accompanied by Marynell Branch, in a beautiful program of songs.

Legion Group Meets

A Night in Panama was the theme of the supper meeting of the junior members, Leslie Huddleston Unit 12 of the American Legion Auxiliary, on Tuesday night, April 13 in the home of Mrs. J. W. Branch with Marynell Branch, co-hostess.

A meat and rice dish was the main course at the delicious meal served to 12 members, the hostesses and Mrs. Joe Jones, Auxiliary President. Marynell Branch offered Thanks before the meal, and, later, the junior chaplain, Susan Reardon, gave a prayer from the American Legion's "National News."

For the program Dee Singleton discussed Panama, the smallest of the American Republics. Susan Reardon, 2nd place winner in state competition, explained the native costume on the doll she had dressed. A collection was taken for the Panama project of assistance.

Dee Singleton, Sandra Flowers and Susan Reardon were named to a nominating committee. Mrs. Jimmy Branch of Chicago was a guest at the meeting.

TOPS Group Meets

The Hope Hopeful TOPS Club met April 12 at the Douglas Building. Under the direction of the president, Doris Walden, two contests were started and plans were made to attend the S.R.D. convention in Texarkana April 24.

For the program, Elaine Burch presented helps in "Preparing Low Calorie Meals." Sharon Bailey was named Queen of the Week. There were 26 present, and anyone interested in losing weight is invited to attend on Monday nights at 7:30 in the Douglas Building.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — They

tried, they really did, to keep Thursday night's Oscar awards show within time bounds and to put a little fun and pace into the thing.

Even so the NBC production seemed to go on and on at a leisurely pace, a long on-camera wait for the viewer to find out who or what won in about six out of 22 categories. What was accomplished this year was short acceptance speeches. One recipient murmured "Thanks" and scurried away so fast the next part of the agenda wasn't ready.

For the home viewer, most of the fun during the early hours was what George C. Scott referred to as a "meat parade"—looking at the stars on exhibition and taking note of what the women were wearing or, in some cases, not wearing. One young actress appeared in immediate danger of slipping out of the top of her gown and another looked as if her satin garment had been glued on, but they were exceptions to the general good taste shown.

The entertainment segments seemed like inserts. There was an amusing Bob Hope monologue—but Hope was sorely missed as the host. There was a tribute to the Beatles in song and dance. There were special tributes to Orson Welles and Ingmar Bergman—and a humanitarian award to Frank Sinatra. There were those undistinguished songs from films sung by top musical talent.

Most moving moment came with the special award to Lillian Gish in recognition of her long distinguished film career. She was given the evening's only spontaneous standing ovation.

The program dawled along with special presentations and the lesser awards for more than two hours—midnight in the East—then speeded up in the final half hour when the three top categories were reached.

Goldie Hawn, opening the envelope, looked for a moment, gasped, then announced that Scott had won for the best performance by an actor. Since Scott had said he would not accept the Oscar because he does not approve of acting competitions, there was a sound of combined laughter and applause from the audience. Then "Patton" came off as the best picture of the year, and won six other awards.

Neither motion picture's Oscar nor television's Emmy shows are very good examples of television production. They have, however, their own special appeal and some suspense. Few viewers would miss them any more than they would miss Hope's Christmas show or the Miss America pageant. They are TV traditions.

About 1,000 overseas buyers, many top-level overseas department store executives and representatives of the international fashion press came to Hong Kong's fourth annual Ready To Wear Festival to view the 1971 crop of fashion for export.

The collections consisted of well-made, good-looking clothes that could be worn anywhere. So it was amusing to hear a gentleman from the Netherlands complain that, "The fashions here are too American."

With travel to all parts of the world comparatively simple to achieve today, fashion has become universal. And it's no longer a

All Told, It Was a Good Show

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

HONG KONG — (NEA) — Because the United States is the major importer of clothing made in Hong Kong the direction that market is taking is of interest to the American consumer.

simple matter to tell what's American from what's French, British or, for that matter, Indian. Designers around the world borrow ideas from each other and fashion in every metropolitan city is very similar. What were shown in Hong Kong by 117 of its manufacturers were simply high quality, palatably priced clothes.

It's interesting to note that man-made fibers emerged as the leading fibers used in clothing exports from the British Crown Colony this year, replacing wool as the favorite in 1969 and cotton in 1970.

Despite uncertainties over hemlines and the tight money situation in the United States, the Colony's largest customer, the growth of overseas sales in 1970 was about 13.3 per cent over the previous year.

Well-established as a manufacturing center, there is no doubt that Hong Kong has also become a fashion center. The manufacturers are aware that good design, good quality and sophistication in styling are essential if their industry, an economic mainstay for the Colony, is to keep ahead of lower-cost rival industries in Asia.

Hong Kong has met that challenge. No longer can it be identified with the little embroidered slippers found at the local American dime store some years ago. Every fashion trend from shorts to evening wear was represented at the Festival — all done in good taste and with individual designer touches. And from sari silks to the suede-look the fabrics used were handsome.

The clothes could have been designed on Seventh Avenue but testimony to the fact that they were not, came through as clear as a bugle call with this little touch of local color.

During some collections the commentators gave two prices for the same garment — one for the lined version and the other for its calined twin. And that fine Oriental selling device is as yet not indulged in the New York fashion showings.

Are the new short-shorts your thing? They were well represented here both with sheer evening skirts and with daytime midis.

Graceful, hooded capes topped slim long gowns in the collection shown by Lindo Ceschia whose designs are of couture dimension. As a designer, he is making giant strides.

The return to femininity was clearly apparent in the lines shown by the Asia Fashion Company and Taiyo — soft, pretty and opulent evening and cocktail dresses, many in silk threaded with gold or silver.

Pantsuits and coats in suede, real and simulated, were plentiful. And, as always, the knitwear collections combined novelty high fashion knits and practical everyday clothes available at practical, everyday prices.

Beading, for which Hong Kong has been famous for many years is still a part of the fashion picture. But it's used more discreetly than in the past—a touch on the bodice as a highlight, a diamante accent on a sleeve or at the hem.

Hemlines in general hovered around the knee for daytime and cocktail time and were ankle- or floor-length for formal wear.

An interesting introduction was a new shade of wine-red, called "wild-berry." It isn't purple. It isn't garnet and it's not Chinese red. It softly glows with a tone that combines all three and it is beautiful.

These fashions from the Orient were given an Occidental helping hand this year Mildred Sullivan, Director of the New York Couture Business Council, organized and accessorized the runway shows. The models, from Sweden, Germany, Italy, England, Japan and, of course, Hong Kong, were a delightfully natural group of girls who were the fashions with an air of ease.

All told, it was a good show, well-performed.

This column is for young people, their troubles and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

GENERATION GAP WIDENS BY A HAIR

Dear Helen: Our son, almost 18, good boy, good student, no big hang-ups; but refuses to have his hair cut. My husband: good, hard-working man, father of seven; but orders him out of the house until he gets a REGULAR cut, not a trim.

I, loving wife and mother: trying to make my man understand that he'll only push the boy into trouble, trying to reason with both, and getting nowhere. Son wants to finish school, but never knows when his clothes will be thrown into the street.

What's a mother to do? —MRS. P.

Dear Mrs. P.: Male stubbornness! The problems it creates!

Hair isn't the real issue here. It's simply the symbol in a clash of wills.

Your husband sees long hair as a threat, not only to his authority but to his child. ("Papa don't want no pot-smoking hippie bum around here!")

Your son sees an enforced "scalping" as the final proof that "Dad will never understand."

If elder gives way to younger, I'll bet that within a month younger's hair starts creeping up toward his ears.

Launch your campaign, Mom! And remember the importance of showing people how to laugh at themselves. —H.

Dear Helen: This is to the teenager who signs himself "Victim of Theft" and rips the older generation for using HIS new slang:

Look kids: We elders promise never to use your slang again if YOU promise never to use our Pill, phone or wheels again! —OLDER BUT FAIRER

Dear Helen: "Slangage" is meant to be a medium of communication. I think "Victim of Theft" is guilty of a very old crime against humanity when he (she?) blows his stack at adults using the special words kids think up to include themselves "in" and elders out.

"V of T" should realize there are many adults who do not consider "learning their language" stealing, but "going the second mile" to bridge the generation gap.

As an Episcopal priest, I have many people coming to me for guidance and counsel. Although I am 58, my hair almost white, my sideburns making me look like a rehesus monkey—even I am amazed that so many YOUNG people choose to rap with me.

Why is this so? Well, I only know what they say, and mostly it's "Thank God there's an older person who cares enough to find out what we think, and who takes the time to talk with us the way we talk."

Having taught English in college, I really wish we could all concentrate on our language as it is, and not have to invent new terms just to exclude others. But I'm darned if I want to be accused of stealing, just because I care enough to learn what they're saying.

God bless and keep you always. —REV. W.M.H.

Dear Rev. H:

"Victim of Theft's beef wasn't with you, or with other adults who use teen language to communicate, not infiltrate. Rather, she blasted the "sellers" and the "buyers"—those phonies who don't really "groove on" kids, but swipe their slang for sales pitches in stores and "outsuite" ads, or imitate youth in a ludicrous effort to stay young.

Stay as you are, my swiny Reverend—sideburns and all! —H.

Lawmaker in Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Rep. Louis Day Hicks, D-Mass., arrived in Saigon today for a four-day visit that she says is being made to "find out how our fighting men stand on some of the issues facing Congress today."

The freshman congresswoman from Boston said she would visit fire bases in the field and talk with military and civilian officials in Saigon and Cam Ranh Bay concerning veterans.

"I was sent out here by the House Veterans Affairs Committee to have a look at the hospitals, the extent of drug addiction and to find out what our boys think of the Vietnamese people," Mrs. Hicks said.

Three High School Teams in Action

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Hope High School sports for the day include a baseball game, a track meet, and a golf match. Golfers Jack Turner, Jimmy Pruden, Jerry Pruden, and Tim Hogan travel to Camden today for a rough match with the Panthers. Hope has already lost once by a rather large margin.

In track, the HHS Girls team will participate in their first meet of the year at Magnolia, in the Riderette Relays. Hope should do well with the running events and the softball throw.

Starting at four o'clock at Blevins this afternoon the newly formed Bobcat baseballers take on the Hornets in the first game for Hope. The squad has been cut to 19 players.

Probable starting pitcher for Hope will be Lynn Norton, with Bill Rowland and Richard Butler possibly seeing action on the mound also. On Monday, the Cats take on Gurdon.

Travelers

Lose Again to Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Rudy Menoli's bases — empty homer in the fourth inning gave Shreveport's Rick Hansen the cushion he needed to post a 2-1 victory over the Arkansas Travelers Thursday night.

Hansen held the Travelers to three hits — one a seventh-inning homer by Jorge Roque for the Travs' only run. Roque's homer, a smash over the left field fence, was his second in two nights.

Shreveport's first run came in the second when catcher Vince Bigone doubled to right center, took third on a ground out and scored on a sacrifice fly.

Dennis Daboll was the losing pitcher.

The defeat dropped Arkansas to 1-2 and left them in third place in the Central Division of the Dixie Association, a game behind league-leading Memphis. The Travelers open their home season tonight with another three game series with Shreveport.

In other Dixie action Thursday, Albuquerque edged San Antonio 2-1, Jacksonville defeated Charlotte 3-1, Montgomery tripped Savannah 6-4, Columbus defeated Asheville 6-3 and Dallas-Fort Worth at Amarillo was postponed by rain. Memphis and Birmingham were not scheduled.

Crawford in Two Over Par in 1st Round

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Richard Crawford of Little Rock went into the second round of the $150,000 Monsanto Open golf tournament at Pensacola, Fla., today with a two-over-par 73.

Defending champion Dick Lotz and Larry Wood tied for the first round lead. Each posted a five-under-par 66 Thursday.

Richard Petty Maintains His Assault

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Richard Petty maintained his assault on the NASCAR racing circuit by streaking a 1970 Plymouth to victory in the Maryville 200 Thursday night.

It was the sixth time this year the Randleman, N.C., speedster glided to victory and his 125th career triumph.

Finishing eight seconds behind Petty in the 104-mile grind was Benny Parsons of Ellerbee, N.C. in a 1970 Ford.

Petty, who already has earned more than $100,000 this season, drove the 200-lap race at an average speed of 88.697 miles per hour. The track was 1/2 mile long.

Downing Hurls Dodgers Over Cards

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Al Downing labored for nine innings to earn his National League pitching credentials. Fran Healy paid his hitting dues with one swing of the bat. Downing, who pitched for 10 years in the American League before moving to Los Angeles in a pre-season trade, beat St. Louis 2-1 Thursday night in his first start for the Dodgers.

Healy, whose previous exposure in the majors consisted of 10 at-bats for Kansas City two years ago, pinch hit a first-pitch home run—in his first NL trip to the plate—to give the San Francisco Giants a 4-3 10-inning victory over Houston in a day game.

In the only other National League action, the Chicago Cubs downed the San Diego Padres 4-3.

In American League play, Milwaukee topped the Chicago White Sox 4-1, Oakland edged Minnesota 4-3, Detroit shaded the New York Yankees 3-2, Baltimore trimmed Cleveland 6-4 in 10 innings and California beat Kansas City 5-3 in 11.

Downing, the little left-hander who has migrated from the Yankees to Oakland to Milwaukee to the Dodgers since December, 1969, picked up his hard-earned first NL victory when Maury Wills' run-scoring single in the ninth inning broke a 1-1 deadlock.

Downing went out for a pinch hitter in the ninth after yielding nine hits. He had gone the distance just two times last season with Oakland and Milwaukee while posting a 5-13 record. In his debut with Los Angeles last week, he hurled scoreless relief for 5 2-3 innings.

Bill Russell, whose fifth-inning single knocked in the Dodgers' first run, doubled with one out in the ninth off Reggie Cleveland. After Tom Haller, batting for Downing, drew an intentional walk, Wills sent Russell home with a single to center.

Downing blanked the Cards until the eighth, when they scored on Ted Simmons' two-out single.

Healy, a 6-foot-5 reserve catcher, pinch hit for reliever Jerry Johnson with one out in the 10th at San Francisco and drilled Jim Ray's first pitch over the right field screen.

It was the second memorable initiation for the 24-year-old rookie, who singled off Denny McLain in his first at-bat for Kansas City in September, 1969. The Giants got him from the Royals last October in exchange for pitcher Bob Garibaldi.

The Giants, who have won four in a row, took a 3-2 lead in the eighth on Bobby Bonds' two-run homer. The Astros tied it in the ninth on a run-scoring single by John Edwards.

Joe Pepitone, who cracked four hits, and Ron Santo each delivered two-run singles, leading the Cubs past San Diego.

Right-hander Bill Hands, 1-2, checked the Padres on eight hits in beating them for the fifth time in as many lifetime decisions.

something. I wasn't nervous. I was just trying too hard."

Baltimore right-hander Jim Palmer, who hasn't lost to the Indians since Sept. 1, 1966, picked up the victory while retiring 19 of the last 23 batters he faced at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. "This isn't an easy park for a pitcher," said Palmer, who allowed four runs in the first two innings. "You have to be awfully careful."

Joe Rudi and Reggie Jackson laced two-out, run-scoring singles in the eighth inning to pull Oakland to a comeback victory over Minnesota.

Rudi lined his third hit of the day to center to tie the game after Dick Green had singled and stolen second. Rudi roared to second when outfielder Jack Holt threw home. Jackson then followed with his game-winning hit off Ron Perranoski.

Sandy Alomar drove home the go-ahead run with a two-out single and Jim Fregosi followed with a two-run single as California scored three runs in the 11th to beat Kansas City.

Alomar's hit to left center scored pinch-runner Ken O'Brien, who was on second base after Ken McMullen's single and a walk to Chico Ruiz. Fregosi then chased Alomar and Ruiz with his hit to center.

Wood, Lotz Tied at Pensacola

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Dick Lotz, one of pro golf's tough young lions who are coming into their own, has been in a year long slump but he hasn't let it bother him.

"I'm optimistic about the way I'm playing," the handsome, 28-year-old Californian said Thursday after recording a five-under-par 66 for a share of the first round lead in the $150,000 Monsanto Open Golf Tournament.

He was tied at that figure with tour newcomer Larry Wood, who needed only 24 putts in his remarkable round on the 6,679 yard, par 71 Pensacola Country Club course.

Just one stroke back at 67 was long-time amateur Deane Beman, who has picked up two tour victories since turning pro four years ago.

A group of eight, headed by flashy Chi Chi Rodriguez, followed at 68. The others are Dean Refram, veteran Billy Maxwell, Randy Wolff, Bob Erickson, Ben Kern, Al Gelberger and hard-luck Lou Graham.

Graham had the lead alone, at six under par, going to his tee shot out of bounds and took a triple bogey seven that knocked him back in the pack.

Lee Trevino, who boycotted the Masters last week for the second year in a row, had a mediocre 71 and was well back.

"I never play well when I've been off for a while," said the 1970 leading money winner who hasn't scored a victory in more than a year.

Billy Casper, one of pro golf's three $1 million winners, had a poor 75 and must improve today if he is to make the cut for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Newly crowned Masters king Charles Coody, Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and U.S. Open title-holder Tony Jacklin are not playing.

SANDRA STEVENSON

Sandra Stevenson, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Stevenson, has been chosen by members of the Hope High School chapter of Future Farmers of America as the 1971 FFA Rodeo Queen.

She will be featured in the parade on Friday, April 23, lead the grand entry Friday and Saturday nights at the coliseum, keep contest records at the rodeo and officiate on Western Day.

A 1971 senior, Sandra is FFA Sweetheart, president of Junior Counselors, member of the Future Homemakers, and third quarter Joe Amour Award winner.

Bumpers to Toss Out First Ball

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers is scheduled to throw out the first ball to open the Arkansas Travelers first home stand tonight.

Bumpers, a right-hander, said he would attend the game between Arkansas and Shreveport. The game begins at 7:30 p.m.

Runners Look Good in Hog Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks spent the second day of spring football practice Thursday working on fundamentals.

Coach Frank Broyles said the Razorbacks displayed strong passing and running attacks. He praised quarterbacks Joe Ferguson and Walter Nelson and running backs Jon Richardson and Russ Garber.

"Ferguson and Nelson were very accurate in their passing," Broyles said.

Linebacker Ronnie Jones, who was playing defensive end Wednesday, was moved to the secondary. Broyles indicated that the Razorback coaches were just looking to see how Jones performed in the secondary.

The Forkers will have another fundamental practice today and end the week with a closed scrimmage Saturday afternoon.

Bullets and Knicks in a Showdown

NEW YORK (AP) — "If we come up to the Garden and don't play as well, chances are we won't win," Baltimore Coach Gene Shue said, thinking of the job his Bullets did on the New York Knicks in Baltimore.

New York center Willis Reed was even more matter-of-fact about tonight's fifth game in the best-of-8 National Basketball Association series for the Eastern Conference championship.

"We've just got to go out and beat them," said Reed, who was told Thursday that X rays showed he was suffering from a strained shoulder joint, but not a separation as had first been feared.

The Knicks won the first two games in Madison Square Garden, then fell apart when the series moved to Baltimore. They were clobbered 114-88 last night.

"The last two games our defense couldn't play any better," Shue said. "One of the big reasons is that Willis is not playing up to maximum. This is the big difference. Willis is a vicious competitor — and I use that word complementarily."

She said he felt "very fortunate being 2-2. Just a couple of days ago we were 0-2 and about out of it."

Chamberlain Outplaying Alcindor

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lew Alcindor and Wilt Chamberlain of the Giants of the National Basketball Association, resume their hefty feuding tonight as the favored Milwaukee Bucks battle the crippled but scrappy Los Angeles Lakers.

So far, the best four-of-seven series for the Western title stands 2-1 for Milwaukee but Los Angeles renewed its hopes with a 118-107 victory on its Forum home court Wednesday night after dropping a pair in the Midwest.

Again, the home court advantage goes to the Lakers, whose 7-foot-1 veteran Chamberlain has kept the NBA Most Valuable Player Alcindor from dominating the series.

With the exception of a 20-point first half in the opening game, won by Milwaukee 106-83, Alcindor hasn't been too aggressive.

In the three games, he has scored 72 points compared with 70 for Chamberlain and Wilt has taken the boards away, averaging 22 rebounds to 17 for the Bucks' big man.

Additionally, in the third game, Chamberlain frequently tipped rebounds to teammates.

At 34, Chamberlain is 10 years older than his adversary, yet has played more minutes in this series.

Wilt and three other Lakers each scored 24 points in the Wednesday victory which confounded those who figured the Lakers, without Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Keith Erickson, would be no match for the club with the regular season's best record of 66 victories against 16 defeats.

Happy Hairston, Gail Goodrich and Pat Riley each tallied two dozen points and for Riley it was his career high. He didn't join the starting corps until Erickson suffered an appendicitis attack last Sunday.

Milwaukee averaged 118 points during the regular season but only 100 in this playoff and Coach Larry Costello still awaits the "offensive explosion" which he has predicted.

He also hopes Oscar Robertson will shoot more. The veteran guard, hampered by a pulled stomach muscle, took only 10 shots in the third game.

Quarterfinals in Charlotte Tennis Play

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Third-seeded Stan Smith was paired against sixth-seeded Zeljko Franulovic in one of two quarter-final singles matches highlighting today's play in Charlotte's $25,000 open tennis tournament.

The other match had Arthur Ashe, ranked No. 4, against fifth-ranked Marty Riessen as the North Carolina National Bank Open moved toward the Sunday championship matches.

One event each in men's doubles, women's singles and women's doubles rounded out the day's fare at the Olde Providence Racquet and Swim Club.

The women's singles sent top-seeded Eliza Pande of Palo Alto, Calif., against Charlotte's Laura Dupont, women's national intercollegiate champion.

Top-seeded Tony Roche defeated Charles Pasarell, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, and second-seeded Cliff Richey advanced over Mark Cox, 6-4, 6-2, in quarter-final matches run off Thursday.

Miss Pande ousted Charlotte pro Bev Cansler, 6-0, 6-3, for her first-round victory, while Miss Dupont's victim was Donna Fales of Miami, Fla., 6-3, 6-4.

In the women's doubles, Miss Pande teamed with Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., against another Charlottean, Nina Cloaninger, marking her 16th birthday today, and Miss Cansler.

Texan Holds College Meet Lead

HOUSTON (AP) — George Machok of the University of Texas held a one-stroke lead today in the second round of the All-America Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

The Texas senior fired a second round two-under-par 70 Thursday to go with a first day 68 to give him a 36 hold total of 138.

Only one stroke behind with 139s were Machok's teammate Tom Kite (69-70) and Andy North of Florida (70-69).

Texas Christian's Jerry Gatti was all alone with a 69-71-140 and Oregon's Dave Glenz had a 72-70-142. Oklahoma State's Doug Tewell had a 72-71-143.

The Florida Gators took over the team medal leadership with a score of 575. Texas, the first day leader, fell to second with a 577.

Texas led in team low four ball with a 121 and in team low two ball with a 128.

A&M Leading Conference in Baseball

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M, boasting a 26-3 season record, a 9-0 Southwest Conference mark, and a fourth ranking nationally hosts Texas Tech Friday and Saturday in a crucial three-game series.

The Red Raiders, who have won 12 of their last 13 games, are 22-9 for the year, and 7-2 in the SWC—good for second place.

Texas A&M Coach Tom Chandler, who is suffering from a ruptured disc in his back which will require surgery, will probably start Bruce Katt Friday followed by Paul Czerwinski in the second game of the doubleheader. Jackie Binks is the probable starter Saturday.

Tech Coach Kal Segrist will pitch Ruben Garcia, Larry Knight, Doug Ham and Doug Ault. His rotation is expected to be Garcia, Knight and Ault.

A&M's 26 victories are the most ever by an Aggie team.

AMONG THE NONCOMBATANTS as the 1971 baseball season opened were two of the National League's most potent hitters, first baseman Lee May of Cincinnati, left, sidelined with a knee injury, and Rico Carty, of Atlanta, the major leagues' 1970 batting champion, who has a broken leg.

Drivers Seek Lap Record in Staley Race

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Drivers were shooting for the lap record of 107.041 m.p.h. over the five-eighths-mile banked oval as qualifying trials opened today for Sunday's Gwyn Staley Memorial stock car race.

Fifteen drivers qualified today and the final 15 will do so Saturday for the NASCAR Grand National $23,350 race of 400 laps or 250 miles at the North Wilkesboro Speedway.

The lap record is held by Bobby Isaac, one of the four former winners at the track who are among the 47 drivers trying for qualifying spots. The others are Richard Petty, David Parson and Bobby Allison.

Offtrack Race Betting Hits $100,000 Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — One week after it started taking bets, wagering went over the $100,000 mark for the first time Thursday, the New York City Offtrack Betting Corporation announced. The exact total was $109,358.

The OTB said this brought the aggregate amount of off-track betting for its first week of operation to $628,586. So far bets have only been taken on the night harness races at Roosevelt Raceway.

Records Fall in Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas Relays, with two meet records already broken, had a 16-event program lined up today and Sid Sink may be the man to watch again.

Sink, a smooth strider from Bowling Green University, set a meet record of 28 minutes, 42.6 seconds in the six-mile run Thursday.

Sink and his teammates posted a meet mark of 16:35.6 in the university-college four-mile relay last year, and the same crew was back to defend or improve that record today. The race was expected to be the day's highlight.

Expanding since installation of an all-weather track, the busy Kansas Relays will wind up with 42 events Saturday. Jim Ryun, world record holder and three-time winner of the Glenn Cunningham open mile, will defend his title in that race.

Thursday's action included the finish of the decathlon, won by Bruce Jenner of Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa, and the open marathon, taken by Chuck Ceronovsky, running for Twin Cities Track Club of Collegeville, Minn.

Jenner, a left-handed junior from Sandy Hook, Conn., upset a pair of favored Oklahomans in winning the two-day decathlon with 7,330 points. He did it by placing first in the final event, the 1,500 meter run. It was only the third time Jenner had competed in the decathlon.

Gary Hill of Oklahoma Christian was second with 7,228 points, and Andrew Pettes, Oklahoma, was third at 7,211.

Another meet record produced Thursday was Barbara Lawson's 2:10.6 in the women's 880 yard run. She set the old record of 2:12.1 last year. Miss Lawson is running for the Colorado Gold Track Club.

In the six-mile, Sink knocked 2.8 seconds off the record set last year by Larbi Oukada of Fort Hays State. Oukada started Thursday but was forced out of the 24-lap test by a stomach ache.

Issel Dashes Notion He Is Off His Game

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Any notions that Dan Issel is off his game have been dashed. Unfortunately for the Virginia Squires, they were the first to find out.

Issel averaged 21.3 points a game in the Kentucky Colonels semifinal playoffs against the Floridians and fouled out of three games. Quite a turnaround from regular season play when he led the American Basketball Association with a 29.9 average and fouled out of only eight contests.

But the 6-foot-9 roving pivotman was in superlative form Thursday night when he poured in 46 points to pace the Colonels to a 136-132 victory over the Squires in the opening game of their best-of-seven ABA Eastern Division final playoff.

The Colonels-Squires game was the only ABA action as the Western Division finalists, Utah and Indiana, had the night off. The series, locked at 1-1, resumes Saturday at Salt Lake City.

A merry-go-round defense of Doug Moe, Neil Johnson, 6-foot-11 Jim Eakins and Bill Bunting was no match for Issel who had 29 points at the half and 42 at the end of the third period.

About that time it looked as if the playoff record of 53 points held by Roger Brown of Indiana was in jeopardy.

But coach Frank Ramsey rested Issel the first half of the final quarter and didn't put his precocious rookie back into the lineup until Virginia began to destroy a 13 point Colonels lead.

The Squires, who never led, tied the game at 130 with a minute to go, but steady Cincy Powell, who finished with 31 points, and Darel Carrier combined for six free throws and put the game out of reach.

Charlie Scott led Virginia with 35 points while Ray Scott and George Carter had 27 each. The second game will be played Saturday at Norfolk, Va.

China Tennis Team Invited to U.S. Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — "We have just put the bait out," William F. Talbert Jr. said. "Now we hope they will take it."

The bait cast out Thursday by the tournament chairman and director of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships was an invitation to Communist China to send players to the 1971 tourney, Sept. 1-12 at Forest Hills.

"Now that premier Chou En-lai has opened the door slightly by welcoming American table tennis players to Peking, we would like to open it further by welcoming the men and women lawn tennis players of China to play in our tournament," Talbert said.

He said U.S. Lawn Tennis Association officials are working through the Chinese embassy in Canada, which has diplomatic relations with the People's Republic of China.

He noted that the Soviet Union sent men and women to play in the 1970 U.S. Open and that they "proved a distinct addition to the scene," and hoped the Chinese would send at least four players—or as many as six—along with an interpreter or two.

Mrs. King Is Easy Winner at Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Billy Jean King, racing quickly over a concrete court labeled "slowly," easily defeated Kris Kenner of Los Angeles 6-1, 6-1 Thursday as the first round of the Caesar's Palace Women's World Championship tennis tournament came to an end.

Mrs. King, of Long Beach, Calif., didn't lose her service in the brief match against Miss Kenner who is new on the women's tour and was forced to qualify prior to tourney play.

The top-seeded Mrs. King faces unseeded Nancy Richie Gunter in Friday's second round.

In a match postponed from Wednesday, Julie Heldman of Houston scored a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Australian Kerry Melville.

Second-seeded Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, third-seeded Ann Haydon Jones of England and fourth-seeded Francoise Durr of France also gained first-round victories.

Miss Casals beat fellow San Franciscan Ceci Martinez 6-2, 6-2 and Miss Jones whipped Karen Krantzcke of Australia 7-6, 6-1. Miss Durr was forced to three sets in beating Kristy Plegion of Danville, Calif., 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

In another three-set match, Judy Tegart Dalton of Australia beat Valery Ziegenfuss of San Diego, 6-1, 5-7, 6-3.

First prize in the $30,000 tourney, richest on the women's tour, is $9,000.

Get Involved, but Not With Con Men

By RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

Have you been disturbed by newspaper reports of people who "didn't want to get involved" in helping others? If so, perhaps you've vowed that when your turn comes, you'll pitch right in.

We wouldn't discourage that for a moment, but do be cautious. A lot of well-meaning helpers these days are losing their life savings, while trying to be good citizens.

Here's how it happens: There's a knock on the door, and you open it to find two well-dressed men. They introduce themselves and offer identification that shows one is a law officer, the other a bank examiner. This is the story they tell:

A teller in your bank is suspected of stealing from customers' accounts. They are certain of this person's guilt, but they need absolute proof. They ask you to help them get it.

You are to go to the bank, withdraw a large sum of money in cash and return to your home. These two men will be there to meet you, and will mark the money you have withdrawn.

Then you are to return to the bank and deposit the money again, this time with a teller who will be described to you. When this man pockets some of the marked money, he will be arrested. Your evidence will convict him.

Will you help? Why not? You're convinced these men are telling the truth. They know your account number, as well as your bank balance.

Besides, how can you get in trouble just taking your money out of the bank and then putting it right back in again? The crooked teller may take some, but he will be caught, and the money will be returned.

Anyhow, it's your civic duty.

Perhaps, but here's what's been happening along the East Coast to citizens who perform this duty.

The "bank examiner" and the "lawman" are thieves. From someone who has stood behind you at the teller's window, they've discovered your account number and balance. Their only aim is to get you to take cash out of the bank.

When they meet you at your home to mark the money, it will be stolen instead. Usually, it's done with a simple exchange of envelopes. When you return to make the deposit, you find that yours is filled with scrap paper.

This trick is commonly worked on senior citizens who are the easiest marks. But it has happened to others as well.

Now that you've read the description, this particular trick won't work on you. But there are others, just as ingenious.

Here are two precautions that will eliminate most of them:

• Be wary of complete strangers who offer any kind of proposition, no matter how innocent it appears. People just don't usually act that way. When they do — watch out.

• Check the identification of any stranger you are asked to assist. A call to the local police or the FBI (who knew all about it) would have unmasked the thieves in the case just described.

Isthmus of Panama Rose From Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deep sea-drilling oceanographers today reported bizarre evidence that the Isthmus of Panama literally rose out of the ocean millions of years ago to form a permanent barrier between the Caribbean and the Pacific.

The evidence, culled from ages-old mud and silt tapped from the ocean bed in the latest exploit of the famed government-sponsored drilling vessel Glomar Challenger, is that:

The present isthmus actually is an area of elevated ocean floor that was forced to rise above sea level by pressure exerted by fragments of a gigantic break-away submarine mountain ridge. The latter had evidently drifted some 400 miles after pulling away from the rest of the mountain, the scientists said.

Doctors Tjeerd H. van Andel and G. Ross Heath of Oregon State University's department of Oceanography told about it in a report to the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

They said this new explanation on the formation of the Isthmus thus closing off a once-open passage between the oceans—constituted the foremost of a number of significant findings obtained during the latest phase of the two-year-old Deep Sea Drilling Project sponsored by the National Science Foundation and managed by the Scripps Institution of Oceanography. The latter is located at the University of California, San Diego.

The spoils system was practiced by U.S. politicians until Congress passed the Federal Civil Service Act of 1883. The World Almanac notes that in 1832, William Marcy defended Van Buren's appointment as minister to London by saying that he could see "nothing wrong in the rule that to the victor belong the spoils of the enemy."

Senate Group Seeks to Hear Top Officials
By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, impatient with unfruitful private negotiations, has moved to finesse two Cabinet members into testifying on proposals to end U.S. involvement in Vietnam.
The committee announced Wednesday that hearings will open Tuesday. It set April 27 for testimony by Sec. of State William P. Rogers, May 4 for an appearance by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.
Laird already has rejected the May 4 invitation. He's undergoing surgery April 29 and is expected to be on a restricted work schedule until mid-May, the Pentagon announced Wednesday night. The committee said "efforts will be made to arrange for his appearance at a later date."
Rogers has yet to reply.
The secretaries would be asked their views on withdrawal proposals and bills aimed at delineating presidential power to commit troops without a congressional declaration of war.
There is no assurance Rogers and Laird will testify. But congressional sources indicate the committee, by issuing the invitations publicly and setting a date for the secretaries' testimony, would like to "psyche" or finesse them into appearing.
Republican war foes, meanwhile, moved into the Senate spotlight with a round of floor speeches urging President Nixon to set a public date for final U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, a course Nixon rejected in his televised speech to the nation last week.
Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said in a speech Wednesday President Nixon should accept Dec. 31 as a date for total withdrawal.
Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and several other GOP war foes planned Senate speeches today.
Case said Congress should enact a terminal date for U.S. involvement, but suggested it be mid-1972, instead of the end of 1971.

Folk Singer to Be Married
LONDON (AP) — American folk singer Burl Ives, 61, and interior decorator Dorothy Koster, 44, say they will marry in London but haven't set a date.
"We decided to get married in London because it is a nice place," Ives said Wednesday.
Mrs. Koster, an attractive blonde from California, said they "fell in love with London" when they came for Ives to appear on a television show.

NOT FROM OUTER SPACE but going there, test model communications antenna is designed to be lifted into orbit folded up and then unfurled to a 30-foot diameter. Primary function would be as a communications aid for military planes, particularly for flights at tree-top level where conventional line-of-sight communication is severely limited. Planes in a 1,200-mile operational radius could also remain in constant communication with each other and the ground via the antenna, developed for the Air Force by Goodyear Aerospace Corporation in Akron, Ohio.

Petula Clark, international star of films, TV and supper clubs, asks your help in the American Cancer Society's Crusade. "The Society wants to wipe out cancer in your lifetime," says the blonde actress-singer, "and that will take lots of money. There are no bargains in cancer research. So please give generously when your neighbor, the ACS volunteer, calls on you."

GOD

Do you ever consider the meaning of a day?... Just a single day?... One day out of the 365-day year? With you, what does a day mean???

Actually, it means 1440 moments of opportunity. It means 24 hours of precious fleeting lifetime. It means that life at best is short... that it is only a little while we have to make the journey down through the valley of time. Just what are you doing with this day and every day? You sin when you uselessly spend the days God gave you. Each day on the calendar is like "a sheet of paper white whereon each one of us may write his word or two and then comes night... though thou have time but for a line, be that sublime; not failure but low aim is crime."

Go to church this week and ask the Lord to help you keep your aim high. Ask Him to help you plan well every moment of every hour of every day. What does a day mean to you?

You In The Church
The Church In You

... form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Canadiens Can't Be Written Off

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"After they scored seven goals on us Tuesday night, everybody wrote us off," Montreal Coach Al McNeil grinned. "Hah! They wrote us off at the start of the series."

Nobody's writing off the Canadiens now, least of the Boston Bruins.

The defending Stanley Cup champions, who demolished the National Hockey League record books in the regular season, found out Thursday night that playoffs are an entirely different matter.

The "Flying Frenchmen," with two-goal performances by Henri Richard and Pete Mahovich, bombarded the Bruins 8-3 before a wild Montreal Forum crowd to tie their best-of-seven series three games apiece and send it back to Boston for the deciding contest Sunday before a national television audience.

The New York Rangers and Minnesota North Stars don't have to worry about such cliffhangers—for the moment at least.

The Rangers got a pair of goals from team captain Bob Nevin—and the second one, with 9:07 gone in overtime, gave them a 2-1 sudden-death quarter-final victory over Toronto that eliminated the Maple Leafs from the playoffs four games to two.

Veteran Doug Mohns was Minnesota's two-goal man as the North Stars spotted St. Louis a one-goal lead, then roared back for the third time in a row to belt the Blues 5-2 and win their best-of-seven series, also by a 4-2 spread.

The Rangers will play the Chicago Black Hawks, who have been resting since last Sunday when they finished their four-game sweep of Philadelphia. The series opens Sunday in Chicago. But the North Stars will have to wait until the ice chips settle in Boston before they know who their next foe will be.

Richard said the Bruins' home-ice advantage won't mean very much. Each team as a 2-1 record on its own rink and "we're both after that fourth one," he said.

Boston Coach Tom Johnson called Thursday night's game "the worst the Bruins played all year. Right from the start, as soon as the puck was dropped, the Canadiens beat us to it and skated away with the game."

"This is the 84th game we've played and perhaps we were due for a lapse. Well, we had one."

Tom McLellan was still proud of his Leafs despite their ouster from the playoffs.

"They gave it one heck of a shot," he said. "The Rangers are a good, big team. There's no shame in going out like that."

It looked as though they'd go out in regulation time. Nevin slammed in a rebound of a

Walt Tkaczuk shot at 12:39 of the second period with Toronto goalie Jacques Plante helpless when confronted by three New York attackers without a Maple Leafs defenseman.

New York netminder Eddie Giacomin made one brilliant save after another to preserve the lead—until Jim McKenny caught the New York defense napping, skated around it and scored with 2:34 to go in the third period. But the Maple Leafs' bubble burst with Nevin's overtime tally.

"It was a wrist shot right along the ice," he said. Nevin used linemate Vic Hadfield as a decoy and, with defenseman Bob Baun forced to split his attention, rifled it past Plante's outstretched leg into the left corner of the net.

Giacomin called the victory his biggest thrill ever, "even bigger than winning the Vezina Trophy," which he and Gilles Villeneuve, the other New York goalie, earned for allowing the fewest goals of the season.

Frank St. Marseille gave St. Louis a 1-0 lead early in the second period. Then the North Stars caught fire, ramming home four goals before the session was over.

Ted Hampson scored the equalizer at 10:29, taking the bouncing puck off the boards and slamming it in off Blues goalie Ernie Wakely's pads. Just 22 seconds later Lou Nanne took a breakaway pass from Murray Oliver and put the North Stars ahead to stay.

At 14:15 Bobby Rousseau tapped in a rebound of a Hampson shot and with just 31 seconds to play in the period Mohns hit with the Blues two men short.

Mohns connected again midway in the final period before Gary Unger got the Blues' final goal.

Derby Regional Tournaments Being Held

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It may sound like a carry-over from the college basketball season, but they are holding two of the three Kentucky Derby regional tournaments this weekend.

In the Western Regional, commonly known as the $100,000-added California Derby, A.A. Selligson Jr.'s Unconscious, winner of two earlier preps on the West coast, heads the field.

The Eastern Regional, more often called the $100,000 Wood Memorial, is likely to include a field of eight or more, headed by Calumet Farm's Florida Derby winner, Eastern Fleet.

The Midwest Regional still is to come—next Thursday's Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland—where most of the prime Derby candidates training in Kentucky will try for their credentials for the most famous race in the land.

The focal point of them all, of course, is the national championship, more often referred to as the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby, the race that makes avid turf fans of millions once

Basketball, Track Dies at New York

NEW YORK (AP) — New York University's basketball and track teams—all but dead on the court and cinder any-way—have been officially killed as intercollegiate sports by the NYU administration for financial reasons.

"It is hard to justify continuing expenditures in these areas when the pressing needs for general student aid and for academic programs cannot be met," NYU President James M. Hester told a news conference Thursday.

Hester refused to say the elimination of intercollegiate basketball and track next fall was a permanent move, calling the action a curtailment and insisting they could be revived "at a later time when financial conditions improve."

But he acknowledged that no such improvement could be seen in the near future. The university finished the 1968-70 fiscal year with a $4.5 million deficit and forecasts are that the situation will worsen.

Meanwhile, Hester said the university will continue basketball on an intramural level and encourage "informal" games between NYU students and other universities. And it will provide facilities for individual track and field athletes and urge them to enter meets.

He said the costs of providing athletic facilities and transporting and housing athletes on out-of-town trips were costly but the major outlay was in the recruiting of student-athletes.

In 1966 the university dropped the policy of providing straight athletic scholarships and instead began basing them on financial need and academic ability as well as athletic talent.

The grant-in-aid program, which Hester called a "self-imposed handicap" severely reduced the flow of promising athletes to NYU since they could obtain scholarships from other schools without showing such financial need or scholastic as well as athletic prowess.

He said it was estimated the elimination of the two sports could save NYU "several hundred thousand dollars over the next few years" and pointed out that there was little fear of a loss of alumni contributions because of the athletic cutback because "they're very limited anyway."

a year.

It's held May 1 at Churchill Downs in Louisville, if you didn't know.

The California Derby, like the Wood at 1½ miles and a full-long shorter than the Kentucky Derby, isn't noted as a producer of Derby winners, but it does determine who travels East and who stays home.

The Wood, on the other hand, has produced seven Kentucky Derby winners, although only one in the past 10 years—the controversial Dancer's Image in 1968.

Ladies Get Into Action at Raleigh

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — First-round action in the sixth-annual Raleigh Golf Classic, a $20,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament, begins in Raleigh today.

A field of 64 women pros and two amateurs will be shooting for the $3,000 first prize in the three-day, 54-hole event at the par-72 Raleigh Country Club course.

Leading the field is defending champion Sandra Haynie, 1970 "Player of the Year" in the LPGA. Also competing are three-time winner (1966, 1968 and 1969) Carol Mann and 1967 champion Kathy Whitworth.

Miss Whitworth was the LPGA tour's leading money winner in 1970 with more than $30,000 in official earnings. She also won the Vare Trophy for low stroke average during the season.

In a pro-am preliminary to the tournament Thursday, teams captained by pros Renec Powell and Gloria Ehret combined for best-ball scores of 14-under-par 58 to capture the $2,000 event.

The Ehret-captained team covered the par-72 course in nine-hole scores of 29-29. Miss Powell's team scored only 32 on the front nine but turned in a sizzling nine-under-par 28 on the back nine.

Third place went to the teams led by Betsy Rawls and Miss Haynie, each finishing at 59, 13 under. Fifth place went to Sharron Moran's team at 60, 12 under.

The Raleigh tournament marks the end of a three-week layoff for the lady pros and signals the beginning of the week-to-week spring schedule. The winner of the last event—the Orange Blossom Classic at St. Petersburg, Fla.—Jan Ferraris, is entered in the Raleigh event.

The field also includes reigning U.S. Women's Open champion Donna Caponi, fourth-leading money winner Marilyn Smith, eighth-leading money winner Sandra Palmer and LPGA Hall of Famer Miss Rawls.

Let's Reflect

I've found a little remedy to ease the life we live—And make each day a happier one—it is the word "forgive". So often little things come up that leave a pain and sting, that covered up at once would not amount to anything. 'Tis when we hold them up to view, And brood and sulk and fret, They greater grow before our eyes; 'Twere better to forget—Selected from Apples Of Gold.

Specialists Have Over-All Market Dope

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Just a few months ago the over-the-counter market for stocks was lacking a central nervous system, and thereby was relegated by many investors to the lowest realm of physiological sophistication.

As the opposite end was the New York Stock Exchange, where trading in the nation's largest corporations is concentrated on one floor of one building, brought there by member firms with electronic circuits to all parts of the country.

Next, in the minds of many, is the American Stock Exchange, which operates in much the same manner, bringing buy and sell orders together. Member firms take orders from customers and telephone them to the floor for execution.

Instrumental in the process, which is used also on the various regional exchanges, of which the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange is perhaps the most important, is the specialist, a man or firm specializing in certain stocks.

It is the specialist who always has an over-all knowledge of how the supply stacks up against the demand and who, therefore, is in a position to set prices, albeit under rigid regulations and official scrutiny.

The OTC operated much differently. It still hasn't a central marketplace. Until recently, brokers specialized in various stocks, dealing with each other by telephone. Wrong numbers, busy numbers, queries, arguments all preceded the deal.

Now look at what the OTC has done: It has undergone a mutation. Seemingly overnight rather than with the evolutionary crawl traditional in the industry, it has developed a nerve system that provides almost instantaneous communication.

Still no floor, but why in this electronic world does a securities market need a trading

Douglas Is Safe for the Present

By JOHN W. BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas appears safe, for the time being, from further congressional efforts to impeach him.

Although the campaign has been renewed, it has not generated the interest and support it did last year when a special House committee investigated and concluded there were no grounds for impeachment.

That judgment apparently is going to be accepted by the House unless some unforeseen development occurs.

As a measure of the declining interest in unseating the 72-year-old jurist, only 54 members have joined this year in urging creation of a select committee to conduct extensive public hearings on Douglas' conduct, as against 116 in the last Congress.

It was a desire to head off the mounting demand for such hearings last year that led Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to appoint a special panel headed by himself to undertake the inquiry.

The Celler committee held no hearings but made an extensive study of documents and other evidence furnished by Douglas and various government agencies.

The most notable absentee on the current list of members calling for full-scale hearings is House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who provided the leadership for last year's effort.

Ford's speech, delivered in the House exactly a year ago, outlined the case against Douglas and served as the basis for the Celler committee's investigation.

Ford has not changed his mind that Douglas should be impeached, but sees little use in cranking up the campaign again when the outcome is likely to be the same as last year.

Members who still harbor a desire to see Douglas impeached are watching closely the Justice Department's far-ranging investigation of organized crime to see if Douglas can be linked to the underworld through his association with Albert Parvin. The Celler committee held there was no factual basis for such an allegation.

Parvin, who made a fortune in the hotel supply business, founded the Albert Parvin Foundation, which Douglas once headed, with proceeds from the sale of the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev.

floor, with all the shouting and confusion and pencils and little pads of paper. A fish market perhaps, but not securities.

After three years of work, the system now ties together dealers in hundreds of stocks by the simple push of a button which lights up a visual display of firms willing to trade in a certain stock and at what price.

In a flash, a broker with a desktop terminal can learn where he can obtain the best price for either a sale or purchase. The deal then can be completed with one telephone call. And someday another button may sub for the call.

Medicine in China Better Under Reds

By C. G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Medicine in China has been "fundamentally transformed for the better" since the Communists came into power, a British surgeon says.

Many facets of Chinese medicine are on a par with or excel similar aspects in other nations, Dr. Joshua S. Horn said Wednesday night.

Dr. Horn, now of London, is a specialist in orthopedics and the treatment of injuries. He lived and worked in China from 1954 to 1969, along with his wife and two children.

Before the Nationalists were ousted in 1949, he said, most Chinese did not have enough to eat, millions died of starvation each year and many more suffered from malnutrition.

The surgeon, who recently wrote a book about his experiences entitled "Away with All Pests," gave a lecture sponsored by the Medical Committee for Human Rights. He discussed Chinese medicine in an interview.

He first visited China in 1936 as a ship's surgeon. Before the Communist revolution, he said, only a tiny portion of the people had any medical care and now all do.

One of the "big transformations" in China, he said, has been in training paramedical workers who perform some of the functions performed by medical doctors. There are more than one million of these to help serve the 700 million Chinese, 80 per cent of whom live in rural areas.

He said peasants or "barefoot" doctors practice "traditional medicine," sometimes called folk medicine, and work alongside doctors trained in modern methods. These practitioners still use such procedures as acupuncture, which involves needle pricks to relieve pain, and prescribe herb remedies, some of which have been adopted by modern medicine.

Dr. Horn said the physical health of the Chinese generally is comparable to that of other peoples, with life expectancy and infant mortality about the same as in Western nations.

But, he said, in mental health the Chinese are "way ahead." This results, he said, from the absence of the stresses, strains and avarice of competitive societies. There is some mental illness, he said, but it is not generated by the "keeping up with the Joneses" stresses seen in the West.

Dr. Horn said venereal disease has "virtually vanished" due to the closing of brothels, the banning of prostitution, the absence of foreign sailors and armies, and opposition to exploiting women.

Tuberculosis remains a problem, he said, because of inadequate housing, although it is rarely fatal because of the availability of effective drugs.

Birth control is widely accepted, the surgeon said, but more persuasion was required in rural areas where grandparents like large families.

Predicts End to Cotton Boll Weevil

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Government experts predicted Wednesday they eventually may clear Dixie's cotton fields of the multimillion-dollar insect enemy, the boll weevil.

T.B. Davich, director of the Boll Weevil Research Laboratory, said the outlook for the Agriculture Department program was good.

"We do have real hope it will work," Davich said after the government announced the three-pronged attack on the cotton pest Tuesday.

The large-scale experiment will involve 4,000 acres of cotton within a 25-mile radius of Columbia, Miss., in a control program to be financed by the government, the state and industry. A 50-mile buffer zone to prevent reinfestation will be set up around the control area.

The persistent pesticides will kill as many weevils as possible before winter hibernation. Cotton plants will be defoliated to reduce weevil food supplies.

Davich estimated the treatment would cut the fall weevil population to about one per cent of the average.

Then traps will be set to monitor how many have survived and to get as many of them as possible — "We estimate this will get 80 per cent of those the Malathion or other chemicals miss."
